

CALL FOR VOLUNTEERS

Acting Educators Conference

May 27 & 28, 2019 (Toronto)

Volunteers will have access to the events at the conference on the day(s) you volunteer. I may need to post folks in lobby areas and can't guarantee entry to all events but if there's an event you really want to go to, I'll do my best to get you in. You would be there as a Pop Up Box Office volunteer, so you would be auditing/observing.

The volunteer shifts are 3 to 4 hours long, during business hours, on Monday May 27 and Tuesday May 28.

Primary volunteer duties will be:

- checking in conference attendees
- walk up registrations
- tidying spaces between speakers/events
- directing attendees to spaces within the theatre
- accessibility support: holding open doors for attendees using mobility devices, directing attendees to elevators, riding elevators with attendees using mobility devices (in order to hold doors open and navigate hallways)
- stuffing swag bags

Event details:

Got Your Back Canada invites all acting teachers to attend their Acting Educators Conference on May 27 & 28, 2019 at Tarragon Theatre. Whether you work as part of an institution, as a private coach, or are someone who is interested in pursuing acting education, this conference is your opportunity to meet other passionate and dedicated teachers and learn some new techniques and practices to bring to the classroom.

This conference offers an opportunity for participants to gain practical skills while actively engaging with and sharing, expert, informed, critical insights pertaining to the areas of:

- Anti-Oppression, Diversity, & Inclusion
- Harassment, Consent, & Intimacy
- Student & Teacher Mental Health.

All events take place at Tarragon Theatre (30 Bridgman Ave, Toronto ON). There are ramps and elevators to access all parts of the building. There are gender neutral, men's and women's washrooms. Babes-in-arms are welcome. The conference organizers prioritize accessibility and are happy to meet specific and individual accommodations.
